Course content

The aim of the course is to provide knowledge of a selection of literary theories for which the literary context is a key element. Methods of analysis associated with specific theories will be discussed and applied.

Learning outcomes

In order to pass the course, students are expected to be able to:

- give an account of a selection of literary theories and methods about poetics and literary context;
- critically review a selection of literary theories and interpretations of literary texts;
- apply theoretical concepts and analytical methods about poetics and literary context to a delimited material.

Education

The course is offered in certain semesters as individual study. The student has the opportunity to meet with the examiner on at least one occasion and will have email contact. During other semesters, the course is offered with tuition in the form of a seminar series. Teaching then takes place at a distance (web-based teaching with classes in real time) or on campus in accordance with what has been indicated for the specific course instance. For information about the teaching form relevant to each semester, visit the department's website. Information will be available no later than one month prior to the course start.

The course is given in French.

For more detailed information, please refer to the course description.

Forms of examination

a) The course is examined on the basis of: 1-2 written assignments and a written examination.

The language of examination is French.

For more detailed information, please refer to the course description.

b) Grades will be set according to a seven-point scale related to the learning objectives of the course:

A = Excellent

B = Very good

C = Good

D = Satisfactory

E = Adequate

Fx = Inadequate

F = Totally Inadequate

c) Students will be informed of the written grading criteria when the course starts.

d) In order to pass the course, students must receive a grade of E or higher on all examination tasks. The principles for weighting individual course assignments are described in the grading criteria. For more detailed information, please refer to the course description.

e) Students who receive the grade E or higher may not retake the examination to attain a higher grade.

Students who receive the grade Fx or F twice by the same examiner are entitled to have another examiner appointed for the next examination, unless there are special reasons to the contrary. Such requests should be addressed to the department board.

At least two examination opportunities should be offered during each course and semester. In addition, at least one opportunity to retake an examination should be given during a semester or year when the course is not provided.

f) The completion of a supplementary assignment may be permitted if the student is close to meeting the criteria for a passing grade. The student is responsible for contacting the examiner regarding such an assignment. Contact with the examiner must be taken within 6 months of the date when the grade was set. The assignment must be submitted/completed by the date determined by the examiner.

Interim

If this course is discontinued, or its contents substantially altered, students have the right to be examined according to this syllabus once per semester for three further semesters.

Limitations

This course may not be included in a degree together with a course, taken in Sweden or elsewhere, of identical or partially similar content (e.g. French III, 30 credits, French III, 15 credits, French IV, 30 credits, or French IV, 15 credits).
