Decision

Prerequisites and special admittance requirements

For access to lectures and examination, the student must be enrolled in an exchange programme at the Department of Law or in the Stockholm Business School Summer programme at Stockholm University.

Course structure

Examination code	Name	Higher Education Credits
MOM1	EU Law in Brief	3

Course content

The course is intended for foreign students enrolled in an exchange programme at the Department of Law or in the Stockholm Business School Summer programme at Stockholm University. The course provides an overview of Swedish law in an EU, international and comparative legal context. The course covers the Swedish legal areas of constitutional law, litigation, contract and tort law, criminal law, family law and labor law. The language of instruction is English.

Learning outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

- Independently apply basic Swedish legal principles, identify relevant legal issues and facts in different contexts.

Skills and abilities

After completing the course, the student should be able to:

- Compare solutions on certain legal issues existing in the legal system of the students' home countries as well as in Sweden, in the EU and internationally, and to independently investigate the reasons behind the differences.

Ability to evaluate and the undertaken approach

After completing the course, the student is expected to:

- Critically assess, evaluate and present different solutions for various types of legal matters; in English, both orally and in writing, independently and in groups.

Education

Instruction comprises 2 weeks of full-time studies and consists of lectures and seminars. On the basis of the given course material, students work in groups to answer questions during each seminar. Participation in 2/3 of seminars and lectures is compulsory. A more detailed description of the course content is available in the course syllabus and course schedule.

Forms of examination

Examination is conducted through:

- Active participation in the compulsory elements of the course
- A written examination.

The language of examination is English. All of the course's learning outcomes must be met and all activities passed in order to pass the course. The course materials students are allowed to take with during examinations are set out in the teaching syllabus.

Students who fail the regular examination are given the opportunity for re-examination. Students who have passed are not entitled to undergo re-examination for higher grades. Students who are failed twice by the same examiner have the right to demand a different examiner when doing additional re-examinations. This does not however apply if there are specific reasons for not appointing a different examiner.

The grading scale for the course is as follows: Pass (G) or Fail (U).

Misc

Completed compulsory assignments are valid for two years. This also applies in cases where a student deregisters from the course by withdrawing.

A student has the right - for a period of two years after registration - to invoke the course requirements contained in the course syllabus applicable at the time the student first registered for the course.

Required reading

Course literature is to be approved by the Head of the Department of Law. For more information about course literature, see the course's website. The reading list is to be available at least two months prior to course starts.
