Course content

This course introduces students to Middle Eastern Studies as a field of studies. Within the course students will engage in open discussions on a variety of assigned subjects. The purpose is to introduce students to important themes in Middle Eastern Studies. The broader historical and institutional contexts from which Middle Eastern Studies emerged will be presented, as will the present day situation. By the end of the course students will have an ability to discuss issues concerning Middle Eastern Studies as a field of studies, and the political, ethical, and socio-economic contending visions for its future.

Learning outcomes

In order to pass the course, students are expected to be able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge about Middle Eastern studies as an academic field
- Show knowledge about the historical development of the field
- Show knowledge about current debates within and about Middle Eastern studies
- Show ability to, in a critical and independent way, reflect on Western social science theories and the narrative of Western modernity in relation to the study of the Middle East as a region.

Education

Instruction is given in the form of lectures and seminars. The language of instruction is English. Attendance at all teaching sessions is obligatory.

For more detailed information, please refer to the course description. The course description will be made available at least one month before the course starts.

Forms of examination

- a) The course is examined on the basis of a written essay assignment and an oral presentation. The principles for weighting individual course assignments are described in the grading criteria. For more detailed information, please refer to the course description. The course description will be made available at least one month before the course starts.
- b) Grades will be set according to a seven point scale related to the learning objectives of the course:
- A = Excellent
 - B = Very good
 - C = Good
 - D = Satisfactory
 - E = Adequate
 - Fx = Inadequate
 - F = Totally Inadequate.
- c) Students will be informed of the written grading criteria when the course starts. Once set, the grading criteria related to the learning objectives of the course are binding.
- d) In order to pass the course, students must receive a grade of E or higher, alternatively a passed grade, on all examination assignments and meet the attendance requirement of 80%. Under special circumstances, the examiner may, after consulting with the coordinating teacher, grant the student an exemption from the obligation to participate in certain mandatory course elements. The student can then be assigned a compensatory assignment.
- e) At least two examination opportunities should be offered for each course. At least one examination opportunity should be offered during a semester when the course is not given. Students who receive the grade Fx or F twice by the same examiner are entitled to have another examiner appointed for the next examination, unless there are special reasons to the contrary. Such requests should be made to the department board. Students who receive the grade E or higher may not retake the examination to attain a higher grade. Students who receive the grade E or higher may not retake the examination to attain a higher grade.
- f. This course does not include any opportunities to complete a supplementary assignment in order to convert the grade Fx into a passing grade.

Interim

When the syllabus is discontinued, students have the right to be examined according to this syllabus once per semester during a transition period of three semesters.

Limitations

This course may not be included in a degree together with a course, taken in Sweden or elsewhere, of identical or partially similar content.
