Course content

A survey of history of Russian literature is given in the course as well as a deeper analysis of certain central problems and authorship. A certain amount of attention is also paid to method questions.

The course is useful for all those interested in Russian culture and literature, for journalists, teachers, lawyers, economists, librarians and researchers in other fields.

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course the student is expected to;

- be very familiar with Russian literary history.
- have certain knowledge of theory and method.
- have a good ability to analyze literary works dealt with on the course.

Education

Instruction is given in the form lectures and seminars. The form and extent of the training may be adjusted according to the number of students in the course as well as to the economic situation of the Department.

Forms of examination

- Assessment is based on compulsory attendance at lectures/written assignments/exams alternatively take-home exam.
- Grades are given according to a criterion referenced seven-point scale: A=Excellent, B=Very Good, C=Good, D=Satisfactory, E=Adequate, Fx=Insufficient, F=Fail
- The assessment criteria for the course will be distributed at the beginning of the course.
- In order to obtain at least a grade of E, a student who has received an F or Fx has the right to an additional four tests provided the course is not discontinued. A student who has received a grade of E or higher may not take the test again in order to get a higher grade.

A student who has received the grade of Fx or F twice on a given test and by the same examiner can, on application, be granted a new examiner, unless there are specific reasons against it. The application should be addressed to the Board of the department.

Limitations

This course may not be included in a degree together with a course, taken in Sweden or elsewhere, of identical or partially similar content, for example the unit "History of Russian literature, 5 credits" within "Russian II".
